ArtScience Museum celebrates the Women of Art and Science this November

Singapore (9 November 2020) – This November, ArtScience Museum is dedicating a special event to the women of art and science with a specially curated line-up of onsite and online programmes from now till 27 November.

Women of Art and Science sees the museum celebrating some of the wonder women of art and science including sculptor Ruth Asawa, artist Hilma af Klint, architect Zaha Hadid and more through its flagship programmes, ArtScience on Screen, ArtScience Late at Home, virtual tour and workshop. These are some of the grittiest, strongest, and trailblazing figures who have defied expectations, genres and subverted the idea of the patriarchal genius.

*ArtScience on Screen: New Ways of Seeing* shines the spotlight on three artists – Ruth Asawa, Anna Campbell Bliss and Hilma af Klint – who defied the notion of gender and genre in their practice. Exploring the fields of art, science, mathematics and technology, these women continued to produce a prolific body of work which have encouraged many to consider new creative perspectives and reexamined the historical art rules and principles that often fail to allow alternative voices to be considered.

Admission is free for all film screenings and visitors are strongly encouraged to pre-book their tickets to each screening via <https://ticket.marinabaysands.com/mbs/booking/asos2020> due to limited capacity at ArtScience Museum's Level 4 Gallery. Walk-ins are accepted on a first-come-first-served basis, subject to venue capacity.

On 19 November, ArtScience Late at Home will be headlined by Tania De Rozario, Marylyn Tan and Natalie Wang in a performance that draws inspiration from their writings and portrays the unique experiences of a woman today.

ArtScience Museum's Virtual Tour: Women of STEAM, will be recognising some of the works of women who have made major contributions in the fields of Science, Technology, Engineering, Arts and Mathematics (STEAM). Visitors can also look forward to creating their own Zaha Hadid-inspired pop-up card in Make Your Own: Architecture-Inspired Pop-Up Card online programme.

Please refer to the full list of programmes and details below.

Film Screenings – ArtScience on Screen: New Ways of Seeing

	International Premiere ARC OF LIGHT: A Portrait of Anna Campbell Bliss (2012, dir. Cid Collins Walker) Running time: 26 minutes PG Till 13 November On the hour from 10am – 6pm A student at the Bauhaus school and one of the first artists who experimented with computer technology in her work, this documentary traces Anna Campbell Bliss' evolution from groundbreaking architect to the cutting-edge artist who radically applied principles of science and mathematics to the canvas.
	Asian Premiere Ruth Asawa: Of Forms and Growth (1977, dir. Robert Snyder) Running time: 25 minutes PG 14 – 20 November On the hour from 10am – 6pm Ruth Asawa: Of Forms and Growth is an intimate look at the California artist who studied at the famed Black Mountain College in North Carolina.

	Asawa was known for her intricate and geometric wire sculptures inspired by basket weaving techniques from her time in Mexico, and whose abstract yet organic renderings recall the language of nature.
	Beyond the Visible – Hilma af Klint (2019, dir. Halina Dyrschka)  Running time: 94 minutes  PG (Some Nudity)  21 – 27 November, 10.30am, 12.45pm, 3pm, 5.15pm Hilma af Klint – a name which only came to light in the art world nearly 70 years after her death. The documentary unveils the story of the visionary af Klint whose abstract paintings combined aspects of scientific illustration, geometry, and color theory. Her work has ignited a debate of who pioneered abstract 20th century art – Klint or Kadinsky?
