March 2020 dining specials at Marina Bay Sands

Singapore (24 February 2020) – Signature restaurants at Marina Bay Sands continue to delight gourmards with a series of dining specials and parties in March and beyond – from new vegan dishes at Black Tap, to Mott 32's new 'Dim Sum Drink Sum' programme, Yardbird's Taco Tuesday, and Bread Street Kitchen's British Pie Week. Karaoke-lovers can look forward to a new spot in town to belt their tunes at AVENUE's 'Mid-Week Karaoke', while revellers can party in style 57 stories above ground at LAVO's Party Brunch.

Mid-Week Karaoke at AVENUE (every Wednesday and Thursday)

Party away with your favourite tunes and drinks at AVENUE

AVENUE has rolled out its new Mid-Week Karaoke package, exclusively available on Wednesday and Thursday nights. Belt out your favourite songs and enjoy craft cocktails and drinks served by a dedicated bartender at the intimate lounge, complete with a private bar. The 'Mid-Week Karaoke' packages come with a minimum spend of S$250++ on beverage purchases, per 2.5 hour booking. The space is also available for karaoke sessions on other nights at a different rate.

For reservations, call +65 6688 8680 or e-mail avenue.reservations@marinabaysands.com.

Black Tap rolls out exciting vegan dishes

Fans of Black Tap can now indulge in the restaurant's expanded vegan offerings. A nod to Black Tap's New York roots and the city's famed black and white cookie, The Vegan Black 'N White Cakeshake (S$23++) is crafted using high quality vegan alternatives such as apple sauce for a perfectly moist cake, and a rice-based whipped cream that can pass the test when piled high on the cake. Chocolate shake is poured into a tall glass with house-made vanilla frosting and mini chocolate chips on the rim, and topped with a slice of black and white cake, whipped cream and chocolate drizzle.

Pair the shake with The Vegan Nashville Hot (S$21++) – a juicy whole breaded portobello mushroom served with Nashville hot sauce, coleslaw and pickles on a vegan bun. Savour the well-balanced flavours and textures of the Vegan Spinach Salad (S$21++), comprising baby spinach, quinoa, pomegranate, creamy avocado, crunchy apples, and spiced glazed pecans with a citrusy lemon miso vinaigrette. Diners can also enjoy the dish with a delicious slice of miso salmon (top up S$8++).

New tantalising dishes at Black Tap (clockwise from top left): buttermilk fried chicken tenders; wagyu wedge salad; The Carolina Burger; The Impossible Burger

Back by popular demand, The Carolina Burger (S$26++) now joins the restaurant's static menu, featuring smoky pulled pork with a juicy prime beef patty, melted American cheese and buttermilk slaw, sandwiched between two fluffy potato buns. Also making a comeback is the wagyu wedge salad (S$27++), comprising a thick wagyu patty topped with crumbled blue cheese, and served on a bed of butter lettuce, cucumber, tomato and bacon.

Black Tap's plant-based rendition of its all-time classic burger, The Impossible All-American (S$29++), is now available all-day. Another new and must-try item is the incredibly crispy buttermilk fried chicken tenders (S$15++), served with three types of dips, namely house buttermilk-dill sauce, Korean BBQ sauce and lime honey mustard.

Bread Street Kitchen by Gordon Ramsay celebrates British Pie Week (2 – 8 Mar)

Bread Street Kitchen presents five delectable pie specials (clockwise from foreground): Kaffir lime pie mandarin yuzu sorbet and shaving; bone marrow & steak pie, pork sausage rolled in puff pastry; lamb shepherd's pie; creamy salmon, cod and leek pie.

Celebrate British Pie Week (2 – 8 March) the true blue London way at Bread Street Kitchen, as the restaurant dishes out five hearty pies over a limited period. Tantalise your taste buds with the creamy salmon, cod & leek pie (S$38++), featuring generous chunks of salmon and cod with fragrant leeks, encased in a buttery short crust pastry. An ode to tradition, Bread Street Kitchen's classic lamb shepherd pie is a homely combination of carrots, mashed potatoes, horseradish and garlic crumbs (S$38++). Meat lovers can satisfy their cravings with the bone marrow & steak pie (S$42++), a majestic centerpiece brimming with steak, potatoes, baby onions and mushrooms. Savour the pork sausage rolled in puff pastry (S$17++), a fun delectable dish with appetising mustard aioli, and draw a close to the meal with the zesty kaffir lime pie (S$16++), topped with a scoop of refreshing mandarin yuzu sorbet.
